Art Enrichment Day

Firstly, thanks to the parents who came to help on Tuesday. We hope you enjoyed it? We had a super time and certainly packed lots into our day!

We started our day normally with phonics and Funky Fingers and then we re visited our work about Diwali, the Hindu festival of light. We spent some of the day painting our little divas (clay pots for candles). We did some fabulous Indian dancing too!

To celebrate our topic about 'Adventurous animals', we did some 'snake' sewing. That was great and really revealed how our Funky Fingers work has 'paid off'. And talking of 'Adventurous animals', we got to see and even hold some!

Well done Class 1. You were splendid throughout but a little exhausted by the end of the day!

Booktime books

We now all have a new book bag and two lovely new book thanks to York Library.

Rachel came and told us all about the Library service last week. Do you know that with a library card you can borrow up to 20 books? She also told us lots about the newly re furbished York central library and all its new facilities. That should be worth a look when it reopens!

What will we be learning next week?

We will be doing some more writing in speech bubbles. You could have a go at home!

In maths we're using finding halves of things. We're going to be folding shapes. Could you half a piece of fruit?
