

Class Eight/Nine

Friday 16th January 2015

Project

Remember you need to bring your customised homework next week by Thursday 22nd January.

We'd really like it if you could customise and decorate your new homework books to reflect your personality or interests. Perhaps you could cover your book with a sheet music collage if you're a keen musician? Maybe you could cover your book with pictures of famous scientists and their discoveries, work by your favourite artists or a range of your own drawings?

Please make sure that your name and class are easy to read on the front cover of your book but other than that, it's over to you!

Spellings

Remember to complete your spelling homework.

By next Thursday you need to fill in the blanks using the ending –cial or –tial or –sial on the sheet given to you in our spelling lesson.

During our lesson next week we will test you by writing the start of the word on the whiteboard and you will have to write the appropriate ending.

Maths

Next week we will be working on ratio and proportion and constructing and interpreting different graphs. A MyMaths activity relating to work on fractions and percentages this week has been set for you to have a go at. We would like this completed by Friday 23rd January.

English

Next week we will be writing our adventure stories. Please ensure your story contains considerable suspense.

Other Notes

Remember to bring your home school agreement next week if you haven't already.
