

Class 2 newsletter

13th February 2015

Year 1

English

We are going to be starting to looking at traditional tales. Do you already know some? Perhaps you could try to find one to read over the half term break.

Maths

We will be looking at data handling for the first week back. This will include tally charts, bar charts and other types of graph.

Topic

We will be starting to look at changing materials in our science lessons and healthy eating in our DT lessons; we have a feeling we will be doing a bit of cooking over the next half term.

Reception

Chinese New Year

We have been busy celebrating Chinese New Year. It has been really interesting to learn why each year is named after a different animal. Can you remember the story?

We have been making our own dragons and trying our hand at writing Chinese symbols.

We had a great day on Tuesday with our music enrichment day. We started the day listening to a piece of music and drawing our responses on a big roll of paper. We then had two fantastic workshops run by music students from the University of York. It was lovely to see you all get so involved with making all sorts of different sounds to make music and musical stories. A big thank you has to go to Ms Lamb for organising it all!

This has been Mrs Rathmell's last week in Class 2. We will miss her a great deal and wish her the best of luck for the future. We hope she will pop in to visit us at some point soon!

Next Week

Have a lovely half term break!

We are looking forward to hearing about what you have done during the break when we come back on the 23rd February.

Don't forget your library books on the first day back!
