MESSAGE FROM MISS SAWYER

What a great couple of weeks we have had for many children being ambassadors for the school. Firstly, we have had several visitors and potential parents having tours of the school and every one of them have commented that the children have been welcoming, friendly and polite. Some of our children also represented Park Grove at the Young Voices concert in Sheffield last week. It was an absolutely amazing show as always, with thousands of children across the country joining forces to sing as one big choir. Heather Small from M People even performed which was such a treat for everybody.

We have made some changes at lunchtime for the time being because some of the children have not displayed the best behaviour at this time. I am sure the children will have spoken to you about the changes and hopefully also mentioned that they all have the chance to earn back their previous privileges. We all agree that classroom behavior is outstanding at Park Grove but want all children to understand that every adult in our school deserves the same respect as the teachers. We really hope that the children will make a huge effort to show us that they have listened and understood the messages given by all of the staff.

Beat the Winter Blues

There are lots of good reasons why people often feel down in January including less daylight, the end of Christmas time, cold weather. Here are a few tips of things you can do to help:

1. Make sure you get some daylight each day
2. Do some exercise
3. Read for pleasure
4. Make a New Year Resolution - but make sure it is measurable and achievable
5. Spend time with friends
6. Do a random act of kindness
7. Cook/share a nice meal
8. Play a board game
9. Laugh!
10. Have a clear out and give some things to charity

All the above can help your body boost the production of your feel-good hormones.
