A MESSAGE FROM MISS SAWYER

As we approach the end of the spring term, we want to take a moment to acknowledge the upcoming departures that many of you are already aware of, as we say a fond goodbye to Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Bell, and Mrs. Walker. They are moving on to pastures new, and we want to publicly share our immense gratitude for their hard work and the lasting dedication they have shown to the Park Grove community.

Looking ahead to the new term, we are pleased to confirm that Miss Adlam will be stepping in as the class teacher in the Rainbow Hub, working alongside Mrs. Whattam. To end the term on a high note, we are holding our attendance raffle next week, where the children will have the chance to win plenty of Easter eggs and a very exciting star prize of a £50 voucher. Thank you for your continued support as we head into these final busy days of the term.

NEURODIVERSITY WEEK

This week is Neurodiversity week - Neurodiversity Week is a time to celebrate the different ways our brains work and learn. It helps children understand that everyone thinks, feels, and experiences the world in their own unique way, and that these differences are a natural and important part of diversity. Some people may have conditions such as autism, ADHD, or dyslexia, which are all part of neurodiversity.

As an inclusive school, we are proud to recognise and support these differences, making sure every child feels valued, understood, and able to succeed. We encourage kindness, respect, and acceptance so that everyone in our school community feels they belong.

park_grove_primary_academy Our Year 5s recently visited York Elim Church. They had a fantastic morning learning all about the building and the community who were helping to restore it. The children were inspired by a local artist, musician, architect and stonemason. It was fantastic to hear about how the building will be supporting the community in the future.
